

ESTATE PLANNING AND LEGAL

What grounds are there for challenging a will?

There are many reasons why you might be able to challenge a will. For example:

1. There are doubts about the testator's mental capacity at the time he or she made the will.
2. Someone might have pressured the testator into leaving their assets to certain people.
3. There are suspicions of forgery.
4. There are doubts about whether the will was signed and witnessed properly.
5. You are doubtful about whether the testator understood the effect of a clause in the will.

6 There is concern that the testator has not provided adequately for dependants.

7. A later will that comes to light.

If you have any questions about a will, call your solicitor.
